A Mississauga company was named Supplier of the Year by Broan-Nutone Canada Inc., a Mississauga-based corporation that manufactures several home air quality products such as fans and vacuum cleaners.

Avnan Electro Inc., an electronic/electrical controls supplier, was given the award on Friday. Key personnel and top management from both parties attended the award presentation at Avnan's office on Ridgeway Drive.

"Within these tough economic times, Avnan's main purpose is to keep our local manufacturer's competitive against global markets," stated president Anuj Jain. "If we can keep our customers' products on the leading edge and remove supply challenges, this gives everyone a win."

The company was given the award based on outstanding customer service, on time delivery, strong technical support and the quality of their product.

In addition, Cindy Montgomery, Purchasing Manager of Broan-Nutone Canada stated "Avnan brought two creative product improvement ideas reducing costs with no additional investment required."
